Our Town

By Peggy Blanchard

Daylight saving time ought to help the Easter Bunny on his rounds this year. Seems there are 200 million more people in the world and that's a lot of colored eggs to hide. An hour more of darkness before the small fry leap, shrieking with glee, from their downy beds Sunday morning is all to the good.

Or, with eggs at these prices, am I out of order in recalling that wonderful institution of the Easter-egg hunt and the pretty baskets witn green paper grass and jelly beans?

Just in time for the Easter season, fashion designers announce that the now old "new look" has been modified. All those folks who were so indignant last fall about how designers had foisted new styles on the hapless female can now relax.

It's true, longer skirts are fun for a change, but people who feared we'd be dashing about daytimes in ten-yard crinolines, or at least bustles and padded hips, had forgotten the rule about a dynamic force meeting an irrisistable object. A woman's mind about her wardrobe can be changed just so far, then she quietly starts saying "no" to salesgirls.

More color in costumes is one idea that seems brand new and quite attractive, though — but la, there I go—it's the springtime and thoughts keep naturally wandering off to fancy headgear, patent leather shoes, pastel gloves and such.

The weather is still a first class topic for conversation — everywhere but at the Campbell Water Company office. Though they're polite, it's hard for the two Mr. Hydes and Mrs. Cousins to disguise a wince when rainfall is mentioned louder than a whisper.

You'd be a bit superstitious, too, if everyone in town expected you to deliver a nice, cold stream of water every time a tap is turned, even after years of drought.

"Creeks down" news had them smiling Wednesday morning, at that.

Los Gatos and San Tomas creeks were actually running with water—for the first time in several years. And the gage, to measure rainfall by, said the storm here Tuesday brought a full half inch of moisture.

Mr. Hyde takes a reading of the gage about six p.m. every day—and this year it's good news to have it pass the half-way mark of last year's total.

Tuesday Storm Is Mixed Blessing As Wires Snap

Phone service in Campbell was still interrupted this morning (Thursday) after Tuesday afternoon's storm that broke electric power lines and one of the main telephone connections in this district.

Telephone repair men were at work restoring service damaged by the 30-mile wind.

Electric wires snapped at the corners of Campbell avenue and First street and at Winchester-Campbell avenue corner, disrupting electric service for three hours.

Food markets and butcher shops immediately felt the loss of electrical power for refrigerators and local restaurants were without electrical stove connections — or light to see to cook.

One hatchery owner reported four chicken houses overturned during the storm, and the loss of some 150 chickens that had been slated to grace Easter Day dinner tables.

SILVER LINING

For Campbell ranchers, the thunder clouds have a very silver lining.

The first 24-hour rainfall in some 60 days gave them a brief respite from unseasonal irrigation and brought hope that underground moisture levels will be restored before the mid-summer dry spell.

No estimate was available on damage — if any — to fruit trees now in blossom, though some ranchers voiced the opinion it will reach hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Water from the foothills and mountains, where nearly five inches of rainfall was reported ran in creeks of the area Wednesday morning. White Oaks road at the dam crossing was flooded temporarily after the storm.

Weather forecasters optimistically saw more rain for Campbell today, but up to noon a bright sun and clear skies dimmed prospects of more immediate rain.

Public schools throughout the state during the week of April 26 will hold open house. In many schools and communities special programs will be held to which the public is invited.

New Order Calls for 20 Per Cent Cut in Electric Use in 1948

Less than a week after a voluntary plan to curtail use of electricity by ranchers was operating "satisfactorily," the plan was abandoned by order of the new state power commissioner.

Replacing the plan is a blanket order for a reduction of 20 percent of the amount of power used for water pumping and other purposes over a 10-month period, from March 1 to December 31.

Percentages are based on use during the same months in 1947.

The new order allows ranchers to curtail their use of power according to season and need of their orchards at any time, rather than discontinuing irrigation at specified times.

Ranchers who curtail electric use between the hours of 4 and 8 p.m. each day when peak loads occur, will only have to cut consumption by 15 per cent.

Daylight savings time will save 130 million kilowatt hours of electricity during the remainder of 1948• power company officials estimate. This figure is more than the amount that will be available from Shasta Dam conversions to California electric lines, but the total amount of power in prospect for the year still falls short of need, officials say.

Private users and commercial establishments also fall under the 20 per cent reduction order and the public was warned this week that all possible savings must be effected in order to keep California's industrial and agricultural wheels spinning.

International Court of Justice Meets

Hearing two cases, the International Court of Justice is now sitting at The Hague, in The Netherlands. The 15-member court, shown here, has before it a case involving a British complaint that Albania damaged ships in the Corfu Channel and a request for an advisory opinion on conditions relating to admission of new Members in U.N.

Campbell Court Notes

By Judge Blaine

Recreation and liquor do not mix well. They never have mixed well, and perhaps never will. Nevertheless places where recreation and liquor are mixed are licensed and in opreation.

To complain because such places produce disturbances and sometimes serious injury to persons is one of those inconsistencies to which human beings are prone. And to demand that arresting officers and judges maintain impossible order is also one of those inconsistencies that are popular.

In Campbell we are particularly inclined to expect the impossible. When the present judge took office in 1927 no liquor was legally sold in town. Now licensed selling is common here, yet not a single arresting officer has been added to our law-enforcement service.

Last week a citizen who did not give his name called up the judge and demanded protection. Inconsistency is so general here that the judge did not even think of asking this man if he would vote for a police force.

The judge has been called a fine man but too lenient. There's something in it. And he has been especially lenient with the good people who apparently expect a judge to be both judge and police force. This expectation is at least a great compliment.

The judge is not even threatening to strike. Some have asked what in the judge's name the "D" stands for. Suppose we say that it stands for dependable — John Dependable Blaine. Possibly, just possibly, something will be done to give Campbell a police force. In the meanwhile, count on the dependable judge.

Red Cross Goal In Sight for April 1 Closing

Red Cross solicitors anticipate that Campbell's $2500 membership campaign will close successfully April 1.

Fred S. Jones, local chairman, said Wednesday that some 90 percent of the goal for this area has now been reached.

Final reports of workers in three sections will complete the local fund, it is anticipated.

Mr. Jones serves as co-chairman with Mrs. C. E. Falgalde.

Contributions may be taken or mailed to Campbell Water Company office or to the office of Guy E. Farley, Campbell avenue.

To Introduce Freeholder Candidates

Candidates for the office of Freeholder in the forthcoming Santa Clara County charter election will be introduced at a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 30, in Hotel De Anza.

Some 300 members of the Citizens Committee from all parts of the county are expected at the dinner, which is sponsored by the Citizens Charter Committee.

Two Trustees Up For Election

Two trustees will be elected May 21 to the board of Campbell Union Elementary School District.

Campbell Grammar School is designated as the polling place. Polls will be open from 7 a.m.-7 p.m.

All qualified electors of the county who are registered at least 40 days before the election in the general election precinct of the school district may vote.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

By Harry Blanchard

Thanks to the many, many people who expressed themselves in favor of last week's editorial on the fracas outside the Railroad avenue bistro. There were dozens of phone calls and personal visits from civic-minded Campbellites who had been getting just a little bit tired of the continuity of extra-legal activities these places seem to thrive on.

x x x

In fairness to Walter Lamb, the proprietor of the aforementioned place, it must be said that he has tried to tone down any suggestion of rowdyism in the place. When he first took over the unsavory emporium he tried to make it quite clear that he was not going to tolerate any fighting or disturbing of the peace. To Mr. Lamb's surprise his dream was apparently Utopian. It falls beyond the power of any one man to police his place satisfactorily once the stamp of unbridled freedom has fallen upon it. To bring the place back to the plane that Mr. Lamb desired will require the help of legally appointed law enforcement officers. Mr. Lamb can't be expected to supervise every move of all his patrons. The proprietor of a business is not expected to be a policeman. If Campbell was protected by Campbell authorities; if Campbell businessmen knew that at their beck and call their own police could handle any troublesome situation, such incidents as happened last week when a man was badly beaten, would not occur with such alarming frequency. No one blames Mr. Lamb, the situation is simply too much for one man to control.

x x x

Should Campbell become an incorporated city next May 25th, the citizens may well thank James Brand, Ben Strong, Dave Rutherford and Gus Standish. While a good many people have expressed their desire to have the town incorporated, these men have actually done something about it. They have given of their time and energies in circulating petitions, digging up facts, working out the details and generally done a business-like job of getting the ball rolling.

The names of seven men, all prominent in the business and social life of Campbell have been signed to nomination petitions. The seven are: Fred Jones Sr., semi-retired owner of a service station and long-time Campbell resident; R. Lewis Brown, a retired leader of the Methodist Church; Joseph Gomes, rancher, Stanford Law School graduate, member of the Campbell High School Board of Trustees; James Brand, veteran of an artillery unit in the European theatre in the last war, furniture dealer and civic booster; A. C. Currie, retired, land-owner, scholar, graduate of the University of Southern California, amateur radio operator, leader in the Odd Fellows and Masonic lodges; Ben R Strong, painting contractor, director of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of youth movements and supporter of athletic groups; Oliver C. Jensen, outstanding builder, contractor, and a prime mover in securing a new bank for Campbell. In addition to these seven outstanding leaders the name of Archie Brydon has been the only one mentioned for city clerk. Mr. Brydon is particularly qualified for the job. He is an expert accountant and has been active in all affairs aimed towards civic improvements. Mr. Brydon is retired. At last year's election Mr. Brydon, running for City Clerk, received more votes for the office than were cast in favor of incorporation. A scant ten votes defeated the measure.

It would appear to us, from an examination of the names of nominees, that the citizens responsible for selecting the future city officers have chosen wisely and well. Campbell needs the experience and guiding hand of these men in her future.

Outlook for Valley Crops Has Canning Executives Jittery

Santa Clara Valley cannery executives say outlook this year for employment and production in the industry depends now on consumer buying power, attitude toward prices and the weather.

In general, canners say it is too early to predict drouth effects on cannery employment or the crop outlook. Peak canning season is in late July, August and September.

However, the canners believe that the peak number of cannery employes will not decrease greatly. In fact, several canners predict about the same number of workers will be employed this year as last year.

However, regarding employment, farm labor office of the Agricultural Extension Service reports that the number of farm workers is expected to be about 50 to 75 percent fewer than last year. At present there are 1400 farm workers employed — nearly half of the total of 2400 employed at this time last year.

Use Diesel Units

Many canneries in this area are coping with the power shortage by installing auxiliary equipment, such as diesel driven generators. This is expected to enable steady employment.

The sales outlook, according to the canners, is very indefinite at the moment. More canned fruit reportedly was in the hands of the grocers at the turn of this year than at the same time last year.

State Employment office reports that the spinach pack is late in getting started and to date only 450 persons are employed in canneries working on spinach.

Employment in all food processing production today totals 2275 persons—1113 women and 1162 men.

Weather Is Factor

E. N. Richmond, president of Richmond Chase Co., pointed out that the weather and economics will determine the employment in the canneries this year.

"Our economy has to become more settled before a forecast is possible—it is too early now," he said.

"Preliminary cannery operations now are of no great moment. The fruit season in June. July and August will determine the cannery outlook.

"Factors to be taken into consideration are purchasing power, the housewife's attitude toward prices, how the canned goods move from the grocers shelves, the price of grain, the price of livestock, of butter, and of eggs.

Letter of H. M. Shadle

Campbell, California,
March 22, 1948.

Mr. Harry Blanchard,
Editor, Campbell, Calif.

Dear Mr. Blanchard:

I read with interest your "Signs of the Times" editorial in the last Press. Such editorials have been few and far between in our local paper and I certainly commend you for it.

It is to be hoped that you will receive many letters such as this, both from individuals and organizations. It is to be hoped also that the stand you have taken will strengthen the law enforcing agencies and will help them to hold in check these "sore spots" that are causing so much trouble in our otherwise very wonderful community. Thanks again.

Very sincerely,
HERBERT M. SHADLE.

Easter, Both Serious and Gay

Our Easter celebration is a strange combination of the sacred and the frivolous—solemn church services on the one hand, gay fashion parades and jolly Easter egg hunts on the other.

Yet, each has its place.

The lighter phases of Easter are as much a part of the occasion as are the toys and trees at Christmas time. Much of the color of Easter—literally and figuratively—would be lacking without the proverbial Easter bonnet, without the display of finery on the "Fifth Avenues" in towns and cities throughout the land.

And what would Easter be to the little ones without the Easter bunny and the thrill of searching for the brightly colored eggs he leaves for them?

On the serious side, the crowds of worshippers at sunrise services and in great cathedrals and tiny churches, gathered to commemorate the Resurrection of the Prince of Peace are always impressive. In song and sermon the ageless story of the Resurrection is told again and with this story comes a renewal of hope to the hearts of men.

Today humanity needs that hope more than ever. The frustrations of the past, the problems of the present and the fears of the future weigh heavily upon it. But if men are to find a deep and more earnestly the teachings of the Master Christian. They must rise above the sordid and selfish and improve the world by improving themselves.

Rotary Brings Together Two Old Friends at Luncheon Meeting

In the realm of the unusual was the meeting of two old friends at this week's Campbell Rotary Club luncheon meeting. Forrest Reese, secretary of the club invited a late comer to take a seat at the speaker's table, where an empty chair and place setting was available. Mr. Reese stuck his hand across the table in greeting, gave his name and then in his own inimitable way exploded, "Well, I'll be durned. . . Kenneth Conn!" Mr. Conn, a member of the San Jose Rotary had come to make up a missed meeting at Campbell. His business? Editor of the San Jose News. Mr. Reese, for 26 years a member of the Toledo, Ohio, Police Department had known young Kenny Conn when the latter was on the sports staff of the old Toledo News-Bee some 15 or 20 years ago. "Proof of the universal fraternity of Rotary has once again been demonstrated" quipped President Jim Arends.

Miss Merriman Becomes the Bride of Vestal B. Royce In Spring Ceremony

At a four o'clock ceremony March 20 in Campbell Congregational Church, Miss Dorothy Estella Merriman became the bride of Vestal Bernard Royce, formerly of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce will live in Campbell after they return from a brief sojourn at Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Some 200 family friends attended the wedding rites and a reception immediately afterward in the church parlor. The Rev. Robert L. Carlson read the marriage service with the Rev. J. H. Bennett assisting.

Mrs. Royce is principal of Campbell Grammar School. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Merriman and the sister of Miss Gladys Anna Merriman of Campbell. She was graduated by Campbell Union High School and San Jose State College.

The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ira Royce of Los Angeles. He was educated in Eastern schools and is now a registered public accountant. His brothers are Ira Royce and Hadley Royce, both of Los Angeles.

Baskets of white peach blossoms and lighted white tapers in standard candelabra were arranged about the church sanctuary and altar for the ceremony. Sigma Sigma club of the church provided the springtime decorations in compliment to the bride and bridegroom.

The bride chose wild-iris purple and pink accessories for her wedding suit and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and orchid.

Her sister Gladys, who was her maid of honor, wore an apple green suit and had a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Hadley Royce was his brother's best man and Arthur Tindall and Ben Ziegler seated the guests. Mrs. David Sanders played the wedding marches and accompanied Miss Ruth Cousins who sang "Because."

Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. Carl Stuart, Mrs. Lawrence King and Miss Hencie Naylor were in charge of the reception. Wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Royce and Mr. and Mrs. Barton Blunk of Los Angeles; Rev. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Ellen Mills of San Francisco and many friends from neighboring cities.

A five-tiered cake and a large centerpiece of white stock decorated the buffet tables.

Bridal Finery of Yesteryear Modeled At Fashion Tea

Reviewing wedding gown fashions of other years and affording—on the audience side of the rostrum—a preview of this season's styles in suits, print frocks and smart, flowery hats, Women's Service Club of Campbell held its annual silver tea Wednesday afternoon in First Methodist Church.

Some 200 women gathered for the "Memory Lane" showing of bridal gowns, a program of music, and tea, served at small tables festive with silvered tapers and garden flowers.

Feathery bouquets of bridal wreath tied with silver tulle under an arc of glossy green leaves formed a background for the procession of wedding attire. Pews of the church were decked with clusters of the leaves and the altar rail was outlined by calla lilies against a rope of leaves. A big basket filled with white fruit blossoms decked a side table in the entrance hall.

As the program opened, attention centered on a frock worn 92 years ago by the former Miss Emmeline Neel at her marriage to Charles Christopher Brady. A quaint, striped taffeta, the gown was modeled by Miss Georgene Lloyd.

Other gowns, loaned by their owners and illustrating bridal styles throughout the past century were modeled by Mrs. Frank Wilcox, Mrs. Homer Hyde, Mrs. Kenneth Sheets (Barbara Jensen) who modeled her own wedding gown, and the Misses Joline Howard, Shirley Golden, Carol Massey, Jean Richardson, Louella Rice and Margaret Robertson.

On the musical program were songs by Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne, baritone, accompanied by Edith vanRossem; violin solos by Elizabeth Moser Breed, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Moser, and songs by Edith Vater Zitelli, accompanied by Miriam Blaine Turner.

Mrs. Raymond J. Flagg was general chairman for the tea. Heading her committees were Mrs. Herbert Binley, Mrs. Esther Short, Mrs. Earl Buck, Mrs. Laurence J. Hill, Mrs. William Powell, Mrs. Bessie Kennedy, Miss Muriel Carson, Mrs. J. M. Dahl, Mrs. Harold Drummond and Mrs. LBen Howard.

What it's like to be a telephone installer

1. Some of the busiest fellows in town... Pacific Telephone's installer-repairmen. For we're adding a lot of new telephones every day in the West. It's steady work. And the pay? Latest records show top rate men average about $80 a week for 42 hours. The younger men graduate up to the $80... according to experience.

2. If you became an installer you'd start, most likely, in a training school. With pay, of course...$37 or $38 a week. Then regular increases for eight years after you got on the job. You'd be given other training, too...to help you learn your way up the ladder. Most all the top men in the company came up that way.

3. Fun like this is more fun when your job's secure. And you can count on telephone work. There's a fine benefit plan, too, paid for entirely by the company. It covers sickness, accidents and death, and provides a helpful pension for retirement. There's nothing like the peace of mind a telephone job gives you...at work or at play.

4. Telephone jobs must be good jobs to attract the capable people needed to furnish good service. Good pay, steady work and an employee benefit plan give a strong sense of security. Comfortable surroundings, vacations and friendly fellow workers help make work pleasant.

Annual reports were given by Mrs. Lukehart, Mrs. Glenn McCoy, Mrs. Ben Mable, Mrs. Dale Lloyd, Mrs. Diane Lawson, Mrs. Harold Mattix, William Suey and Mrs. Perata, president.

Master Mel Peterson of the fifth grade entertained the group with three selections on the accordian.

Mr. Shuey, principal, announced that the school would now go back to a full day's session due to the fact that the primary grades will be moved in the San Tomas School. The fourth, fifth and sixth grades will continue to attend Campbell School until their rooms are completed.

The meeting adjourned for refreshments provided by Mrs. Dale Lloyd, Mrs. Kenneth Wilson and Mrs. Phylis Swan.

APRON TEA

Arrangements are now being made for the Apron Tea to be held under the auspices of the General Woman's Guild of the Campbell Congregational Church April 29 in the church rooms. The public is invited to attend.

Newton J. Wood, Margaret Goodell, Exchange Wedding Vows

Newton James Wood claimed Miss Margaret Jean Goodell as his bride Friday evening at a formal ceremony held in Campbell Congregational Church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wood of Rincon avenue, and the bride is the daughter of Mrs. Winifred H. Goodell of Milton street.

The couple repeated their vows to the Rev. Robert L. Carlson, pastor of the church in the presence of their families and close friends.

Margaret Jean was gowned in white slipper satin, fashioned with a net yoke, long pointed sleeves and a short train. Her fingertip veil was secured by a Juliet cap of fresh white flowers and her bridal bouquet was of gardenias and white sweet peas.

Her sister, Shirley Goodell, attended her as maid of honor, wearing a pale blue, net-over-taffeta gown and carrying coral pink sweet peas. Mrs. Gene Hamblin of San Francisco, matron of honor, wore pale pink net and taffeta and Gloria Bisch, who was junior bridesmaid, wore a frock of yellow shadow organdy. Their flowers were pale pink and lavender sweet peas.

Mrs. Goodell wore a blue jacket dress with pink hat and gloves and Mrs. Wood dressed in a black print and flowered hat. Both mothers had pink carnations for their corsages.

The bride's uncle, George C. Flanagan of Medford, Ore., escorted her to the altar and gave her in marriage. Walter Peck, cousin of the bride, and Gene Hamblin were ushers.

Harvey Wood attended his brother as best man.

After the ceremony, wedding guests were entertained in the Goodell home, where a tiered cake, decorated with a lace bell and a ring of bells and doves centered the table.

When the couple left for their honeymoon, the bride wore a gray suit, white flower headband and white accessories. The young couple will be at home on San Tomas avenue when they return. The bride is a senior student at San Jose State College and Mr. Wood is employed at Campbell High School.

Sure, we are water-conscious! That's why we strongly urge you to plant lawns, shrubs and plants NOW!

Planted now they will establish a deep root system that will better withstand the dry summer months.

3 STEPS TO SAVE WATER AND YOUR GARDEN:

1 WEED! Clear your garden of moisture-robbing weeds.

2 CULTIVATE! After every thorough watering, when ground has set, lightly loosen the top layer of soil around your plants.

3 MULCH! Place well-rotted manure, leaf mold, or peat moss on top of ground around plants, and preferably over entire garden.

These three steps will not only conserve your present investment, but will enable you to continue your planting without increasing the overall consumption of water.

Mission Trail Gets Markers

The new California State Historical Markers now being erected along El Camino Real, will add considerable pleasure to those traveling this historic pathway of the Padres.

The first of these monuments was just completed and commemorates Mission San Antonio de Padua. Made of native stone, the monument stands seven feet in height by six feet across the base, tapering to four feet at the apex. At eye level is a bronze plaque bearing the inscription, "Mission San Antonio de Padua. Founded by Father Junipero Serra, July 14, 1771. Most picturesque setting. First mass was celebrated in presence of one Indian. Later congregation grew to a thousand neophytes. Famous for its fine horses and expert vaqueros."

The monument is set back from the highway with a gravel surfaced turnout where travelers may pause and park their cars while reading the inscription. Approaching the monument there is a large, readable marker stating, "Historical Marker, 500 yards." The plans of the State Highway Department are to place the monuments on the main highways at junction points with roads leading directly to the historical site; to place directional signs indicating the distance to the site; and to further place another marker directly at the site.

This program will assist those interested in reading the history of our State as they travel, adding much to the pleasure of their trips, and it is a much needed improvement on past attempts to mark these historic sites and buildings.

Along El Camino Real it will be of particular value, as most of the tourists traveling the Mission Trails are vitally interested in the old Missions and other points of historic interest in this pathway of western civilization.

U.N. SURVEYS ECONOMIC SITUATION:

World Production Lags, But Population Grows

The world is producing less today than it did 10 years ago, but its population has brown by 200,000,000, as many people as live in France, Germany, Italy and the United Kingdom.

That's the outstanding reality of world economies now, say the economists of the United Nations in a recent report. The report, entitled "Salient Features of the World Economic Situation, 1945-47," is now under study here by the U.N. Economic and Social Council, to which it was given as a basis for possible world-wide economic recommendations and programs.

Lagging production means, the economists point out, that there is far less than enough food to go around in the world. "The world food situation is now as critical as any time since the end of the Second World War," the report says.

The shortage of food, and the resulting rise in its price, the economists stress, runs through the whole productive process, reducing the physical strength of workers and forcing increases in costs.

Shortages are not limited to food, however, the U.N. report shows, and "even if the present production of manufactured goods, primary products and food were at pre-war peak levels, there would still be serious scarcities. If, moreover, effective demand is maintained in the years ahead, supplies may continue to be inadequate unless deliberate steps are taken, both on national and international levels, to bring supply into a more adequate balance with needs."

In addition to the gloomy picture of shortages, an outline of a greatly changed world economic system is appearing, the report shows. One outstanding fact is that "the economic potential of the United States of America has enormously increased during the war, while that of many other important production centers has considerably diminished."

An indication of how much the world now depends on the United States is disclosed by trade statistics. "In 1938," the report reveals, "United State exports already exceeded those of any other country and represented 14 percent of the value of all goods entering into world trade; during the first half of 1947, . . . they represented a third of world exports." Imports into the U.S.A. have not nearly kept pace with the great increase in exports.

This shift in productive facilities and the great excess of U.S. exports over imports is behind the present world shortage of United States dollars, the report says. The long-run remedy is increased production outside of the United States, which must, at the same time, be willing to increase the amount of its imports.

A clue to future developments —and of possibly more long-run significance than the economic concentration in the U.S.A. — is that the distinction between "industrialized" countries and those producing raw materials is no longer sharp because of war time development, the report indicates. If few development schemes foster increased production in these regions, some of the world's economic illnesses may be cured.

Shortages are only a part of the world's economic troubles, however, since dangerous inflationary pressures, the report points out, are spread throughout the world.

In most countries, inflation is the result of tremendous demand in relation to scarce supplies of consumer goods. The high demand, in turn, grows out of national budget deficits, high net exports, high rates of private investment or the spending of war-time accumulations of money.

When it comes to remedies for economic troubles, the report has these suggestions:

1. Production must be concentrated on the key goods and services, such as food, fuel, steel and transport, which are needed to produce more.

2. Inflation is an emergency situation which requires emergency measures, including monetary and fiscal action and even, if necessary, direct control of investments and rationing of essential consumer goods.

3. Coordinated national and international economic action is needed. Planning for an increase of food and fuel production is the most urgent problem.

"The bulk of the human, natural and financial resources that will be required for an increased volume of production in any country," the report declares, "must necessarily come from that country itself. In the war-devastated countries, and in the least developed countries, however, foreign financing and foreign goods are bound to play an important part in speeding reconstruction and in promoting economic development."

The report concludes that although there are many immediate problems, this is the time to plan ahead in order to maintain world-wide full employment in the years ahead, especially since many factors in the world's economy now may be impermanent.

LETTERS FROM READERS

To The Editor:

At the last meeting of the Campbell Union High School Parent Teacher Association, Easter vacation was again under discussion.

At Easter time last year, this association wrote each parent, favoring concerted action to chaperone students from Campbell High School who spent Easter vacation in Santa Cruz. The Parent Teacher Association was assisted by the Hi-Spot, a San Jose Youth Recreation Organization, in establishing a recreation program at Santa Cruz during Easter vacation.

This year, we regret to announce that it will be impossible to have a recreation program in Santa Cruz during Easter vacation, as the Hi-Spot does not feel that it can provide the program this year. It is not possible for our Parent Teacher Association, or our students, to run the program independent of the Hi-Spot, as we do not have the facilities to carry on such an endeavor.

It was the sincere opinion of those parents at our last meeting that we should go on record again favoring concerted action to chaperone students who will vacation at Santa Cruz this year. We believe this concerted action will help make Easter vacation at Santa Cruz a happy occasion for those who participate in it.

We are once again asking you, as fellow parents, to cooperate in this matter. Will you help us by not allowing your son or daughter to go to Santa Cruz this Easter vacation unless the group is properly supervised?

Can rain solve the power problem?

Up-to-date answers to questions about the shortage

1 Are rains enough? No. Literally, too much water's gone out of too many reservoirs. Rains now cannot be expected to replace it.

2 Just how bad is the drought? It's the worst water power year in our history. This season's rainfall is far below normal. The snowpack in the mountains is scant. What snow and rain we have had has been poorly distributed—not enough of it in the area where it's needed most. And... to make things worse... this dry season follows a dry one last year.

3 What's the drought got to do with electricity? Water is power. Water shortage means power shortage. We have 14 steam-electric generating plants, but most of California's electricity is supplied by water. Today our 55 hydro-electric plants need water. Our 121 reservoirs are thirsty. Some are almost empty. The drought, too, creates unusual irrigation demands in orchards and farms. Pumping water takes still more electricity. That makes a bad problem worse.

4 Is the drought the only cause of the emergency? No. Actually there are many causes and the drought intensifies them. The story, boiled down, is this: During the war years we couldn't obtain priorities to maintain our normal building program. As soon as war controls were removed in 1945 we started all over again placing orders for generators, boilers, transformers and other equipment. Complex generators aren't sold like used cars. They must be built to order, piece-by-piece. The few plants in our country equipped to make them were crippled by strikes and other obstacles. Their production suffered. Delivery dates were missed. To make a tough problem tougher, the demand for electric power has increased even faster than California's tremendous growth in population.

Just last January we received the first steam-electric generator ordered before the war and re-ordered in 1945.

Place all these things together. Add the drought and the greatest migration in history. That's the emergency.

5 Where does the situation stand today? At best it is serious. We have been doing our best, and have been doing so right along, to get power from every source...and rush more steam-electric generators into service. But, as it stands today, no one can tell how long this critical situation will last...or how much worse it will get.

6 Will the new Shasta power help? Of course. Every bit helps. But new Shasta power alone is only a fraction of the total needed. Our area demand is more than 2,000,000 kilowatts. Shasta is expected to supply, next month, about 75,000 additional kilowatts, and another 75,000 kilowatts later in the year. It will help but you can see it won't go far.

7 How about daylight saving time? That means more help... equal to about 140,000 kilowatts. But it's still not a solution. The biggest saving, of course, is the 20% cut in use ordered by the California Public Utilities Commission.

8 What is our record of public service? Let's take a quick look at the score: Except in wartime when we were refused priorities we have always built successfully ahead of demand. Our area enjoys the greatest farm electrification in the country. Our farms are 98% electrified... far ahead of other sections. Our rates are low. During the war we supplied power to a staggering number of industries. Not one was ever shut down for lack of power. Throughout California's greatest years of development electric power in good supply and at low rates has played a major part.

9 What are we doing to solve present problems? Since the war we've been building just as fast as is humanly possible...in spite of delayed delivery dates, material shortages and the like.

Right now, we're in the midst of a huge program of building hydro and steam electric plants. In the last year of the war, 1945, we spent over $22,500,000 on that program; in 1946, $45,000,000 and in 1947 over $100,000,000. Our 1948 construction expenditures are running at a rate exceeding $10,000,000 per month.

We're going to provide just as much power, from as many sources, as we can... in spite of obstacles.

Here's how you can lend a helping hand

This problem is everybody's problem... agriculture, industry, labor, business and householders. You can add your help by remembering to turn off all lights you aren't actually using... in the hall, on the porch, in the bathroom, in the garage. You can keep down the use of electric heaters. You can make sure the refrigerator door is tightly closed. With just a little care you can help a lot to stretch precious power. Won't you lend your helping hand?

ON TIME

In the matter of watch repair, JOHN'S JEWELRY reminds you that it is a misstatement for jewelers to say that the repairing of watches is guaranteed—It is not a guaranteed process, but rather an obligation on the part of the jeweler to fix the thing-a-ma-jig to your satisfaction. P.S. He does a good job too—had mine repaired last week and works like a charm.

OUR DEMOCRACY——by Mat

HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW?

IN GRANDFATHER'S DAY, THE GROWING OF A FRUITFUL GARDEN WAS FELT TO DEPEND UPON A SPECIAL KNACK— THE SUCCESSFUL GARDENER WAS CREDITED WITH HAVING A "GREEN THUMB."

TODAY, WE HEAR LESS OF GREEN THUMBS AND MORE OF TESTED SEED — SOIL PREPARATION, FERTILIZATION AND CULTIVATION... NOW, MORE OF US CAN HAVE THE SATISFACTION OF GROWING A SUCCESSFUL GARDEN.

A COUPLE OF GENERATIONS AGO, TOO, THE MAN WHO GOT AHEAD FINANCIALLY WAS OFTEN CREDITED WITH A SPECIAL KNACK. TODAY, WE RECOGNIZE NO SPECIAL KNACK WAS NEEDED — BY REGULARLY SETTING ASIDE MONEY IN LIFE INSURANCE, SAVINGS ACCOUNTS AND U.S.SAVINGS BONDS, ALL OF US ARE ABLE TO GET AHEAD — TO GET MORE SATISFACTION OUT OF LIFE WHILE PROVIDING FOR FUTURE NEEDS.

C. of C. Urges Bill To Clarify Overtime Pay

Passage of the Goodwin Bill (H.R. 4387), or legislation embodying its principles, to clarify regular and overtime rates of pay under the Fair Labor Standards Act was urged today by the directors of the California State Chamber of Commerce, following review of "overtime-on-overtime" litigation now pending in federal courts.

A U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that overtime rates defined in collective bargaining agreements are not overtime rates under the Fair Labor Standards Act — reversing a district court decision. Under appeal, the U. S. Supreme Court is reviewing the case.

"Unless remedial legislation is passed, unfavorable decision by the Supreme Court would make the nation's employers liable for penalty overtime above the overtime they have heretofore paid in accordance with collective contracts," E. C. Hummel, Los Angeles, State Chamber industrial committee chairman, reported. "Penalty overtime would in some cases run as high as 30 per cent of payrolls, as far back as the statute of limitations applies."

Seek Big League Baseball Players

NEW YORK CITY—A nation wide rookie hunt giving every baseball player a chance at a Dodger contract has been launched by the Dodgers with Argosy, it was announced by Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, shown here (left) with Harry Steeger, Argosy editor. Even though the Dodger organization is the largest in the game, Rickey admits they but scratch the surface of player potential. The Dodgers will send a scout to any town in the country to check a nominated player.

Burial Rites Saturday for Mrs. Curry

Mrs. Carrie M. Curry, member of a pioneer family, died Wednesday at the Curry Ranch on Parr avenue. She had been in ill health for several months.

Mrs. Curry's parents were pioneer settlers in the San Jose area. She was the widow of B. O. Curry, who was a widely known rancher. Mrs. Curry was born near Placerville and had resided in this section for 56 years.

She was a member of Campbell Congregational Church and a charter member of Pundita Circle, Campbell. Surviving are three daughters, Miss Myrtle Curry and Mrs. Ethel Vaughn of Campbell and Mrs. Olva C. Dodge of Laurel, and a grandson, Robert Dodge of San Jose.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Saturday from the John E. Dowdle Chapel in San Jose. Interment will be at Los Gatos Cemetery.

Mrs. Curry was a guest at Old Settlers Day festivities here Feb. 21 and rode in the parade in an automobile marked with a banner reading "Granny Came In '92."

Kite Flying Contest at Cambrian Sunday

Go fly a kite, a term used facetiously by the younger generation may well be taken literally this coming Sunday afternoon. A kite flying contest for the Campbell High School district, under the auspices of the Campbell Coordinating Council is to be held at the Cambrian School grounds between 2 and 4 p.m.

Prizes will be awarded in two groups, one group for youngsters under 16 and a group for older "high flyers." The prizes will be awarded for largest and smallest kites, highest flyer, most unique or novel, and the most artistic. Art Tindall is in charge of arrangements.

The fishing rod, appropriately named Stubcaster, is only 21 inches long and yet, due to its patented coil spring, it has the "live-action" of a full length standard casting rod. Stubcaster breaks down to only 14 inches, allowing it to fit any tackle box. Waltco Products here are the makers.
